NOT IN CONTEMPT SAYS THE COURT

Archie Steiner Delivers the Registration Books and Judge Witt Dismisses Contempt Rule.

NO MORE AFFIDAVITS YET

Mr. Selph to Resume Work Tuesday-Technical Point is Raised Against Him.

Judge S. B. Witt, of the Hustings Court yesterday dismissed the rule against Archie Steiner, former registrar for the First Precinct of Jefferson Ward, Steiner having appeared in court and delivered his books to his successor, Mr. Roy B.

Lawyers Didn't Talk.

Mr. Steiner was accompanied in court by his friend and attorney, Jacob Cohn, though the latter had nothing to say. Neither Cohn nor Commonwealth's Attorney Folkes spoke in the case. There was no room for lawyers: It was merely a matter between His Honor and one witness, and it did not take long to dispose of it.

There were a number of local politicians of more or less note in the room, but nothing developed to make the proceeding of more than passing.

The matter of the declination of former Rogistrar Steiner to surrender his books to his successor, had no direct bearing upon the fight, which is being made by Mr. John A. Selph for a recount of the ballots in First Jefferson, though it arose in connection therewith. City Democratic Committee will

The City Democratic Committee will meet at Murphy's Wednesday night to take the matter up and determine whether there is sufficient ground to warrant a recount. The point is raised that Jir. Selph has put himself beyond the pale of a contest by his failure to notify his successful competitors of his Intentions to ask for a recount, but the more conservative view seems to be that the committee will not stand on such a technicality, if it appears that the dissatisfied nicality, if it appears that the dissatisfied has ground for his appeal.

and with the contestee, a written demand," etc.

Mr. Selph properly notified the committee, but served no formal notice upon the candidates who were successful in the race for Council against him. There were no really interesting developments in the situation yesterday, beyond the action of the court in dismissing the rule against Steiner.

Nothing Revealed.

Nothing Revealed.

The turning over of the books to Mr. Temple, who was willing for them to be copied, revealed nothing which was calculated to throw light on the question at issue, as no one could tell just who really voted in the primary. Some of those whose names appear on the hooks are disquallied on account of the non-payment of poll taxes, and others have died or moved out of thesprecingt.

The only list which will show who actually voted is that which is in the scaled trunk at the Virginia Trust Company, and which will be opened in the presence of the committee Wednesday night, provided it is determined to go into the ques-

FINES FOR SOCIAL CARDS.

Judge Holds Glass of Lemonade is Gambling Stake.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ST. JOSEPH, MO., May 12 .- "I am going to fine every man brought before me and proven guilty of violating this ordinance," said Police Judge Mur, after assessing a fine of $3 against George Dysart and C. P. Brooks for playing cards at the Anona Club rooms for lemonade.

The ordinance covers any game

The ordinance covers any game of chance for money or property, and Judge Muir holds that drinks of any kind that cost money, elgers and such things as are usually played for in the so-called social game of cards, are property. Shaking dice for drinks or elgars will also come under this head, if the police see fit to enforce the ordinance rigidly. The fines assessed against the two men were the result of the raid on the Anona Club by Detectives Wheeler and Wilson. They found several men seated at tables playing cards. Dysart and Brooks admitted that they had played for lemonade. Gabe and William Etschman, arrested as proprietors of the house, were found not guilty of keeping a gambling house.

"It is plainly evident," said the court in disfissing the rule, "that Steiner meant no contempt, but was acting according to his judgment for his own protection. The rule against him is dismissed."

The entire proceeding consumed only a few moments. There was but one witness, and he was the new registrar, Mr. Temple.

A Grand Parade With Beautiful and Unique Floats-Fine Speech.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PEARISBURG, VA., May 12.-The citzenship of Giles county was well repreof the one hundredth anniversary of the county. On the 13th day of May, 1806, the county of Glies was established, being cut off from Montgomery county. The history of Giles during the past hundred years has been admirably written by the development of what was a sparsely settled district in the beginning into one of the richest, most prosperous and substantial counties of Southwest Virginia.

The county of Glies is well known for its reliable and substantial citizenship, the prosperity of its people, rich blue grass farms, fine live stock and beautiful mountain scenery.

A detective was placed in the building with orders to arrest, the robber or robbers. The vigilance of the sleuth availed nothing intil late Wednesday afternoon. It was then that a suspicious appearing young man was found in the building. It proved to be E. W. Creekmore, 20 years old. Being unable to give a satisfactory account of himself, he was taken to the police station. On being searched, there was found on his person a bunch of keys, with Senator Sale's name on them, and a pocket-book, which proved to be the property of Dr. Gray G. Hollday, coroner of Portsmouth.

Creekmore, who lives with an uncle in Berkley Ward, did not deny his guilt, but connected with the robberles the name of John Ashby, whom, he said, lived in South-Norfolk. He sald Ashby wouse enter offices and, robbing them, would give him the plunder. The only thing he acknowledged taking personally was a camera from the office of Messrs. Sale, Mann & Tyler.
